Reasons to DO-IT-NOW

Postponing your landscape project or dividing your landscape project into several smaller projects may not always be your best option if the funds are not immediately available. Postponing a project could mean increased pricing and you won't have the enjoyment of using it now either.

Phasing a project into smaller affordable segments means you will have to go through the design phase, the pricing phase, and the construction phase each and every time again. This can be quite disruptive to your lifestyle and the general peace and quiet of the neighborhood.

Using the Unilock® Do-it-Now Payment Options Program can actually reduce the overall project cost, neighborhood disruption and the hassles of project organization.

And, the biggest benefit of doing it all now, is that you get to enjoy it all - now!
